"When HE HAD FASTED FOR FORTY DAYS AND FORTY NIGHTS, and afterwards was hungry, He gave an opportunity to the devil to draw near, so that He might teach us through this encounter how we are to overcome and defeat him. This a wrestler also does. For in order to teach his pupils how to win he himself engages in contests with others, demonstrating on the actual bodies of others that they may learn how to gain the mastery. This is what took place here. For, desiring to draw the devil into contest, He made His hunger known to him. He met him as he approached, and meeting him, with the skill which He alone possessed, He once, twice, and a third time, threw His enemy to the ground."

LENTEN PRAYER OF ST. EPHREM THE SYRIAN

O Lord and Master of my life, take from me the spirit of sloth, despair, lust of power, and idle talk.

But give rather the spirit of chastity, humility, patience, and love to Thy servant.

Yea, O Lord and King, grant me to see my own transgressions, and not to judge my brother, for blessed art Thou, unto ages of ages. Amen.

ПОКАЯННА МОЛИТВА СВЯТОГО ЄФРЕМА СИРІЙСЬКОГО

Господи і Владико життя моє!

Духа неробства, неробства і пустослів’я відкину від мене.

Духа доброчесності, смиреномудрія, терпеливості й любові даруй мені, слугу твоєму.

Так, Господи, Царю! Дай мені бачити гріхи мої і не осуджувати брата моего, бо ти благословений на вики вічні. Амінь.

Open to me the doors of repentance, O Life-giver. For my spirit rises early to pray towards Thy holy temple, bearing the temple of my body all defiled. But in Thy compassion, purify me by the loving kindness of Thy mercy.

Lead me on the paths of salvation, O Mother of God, For I have profaned my soul with shameful sins, and have wasted my life in laziness. But by your intercessions, deliver me from all impurity.

When I think of the many evil things I have done, wretch that I am, I tremble at the fearful day of judgement. But trusting in Thy living kindness, like David I cry to Thee: Have mercy on me, O God, according to Thy great mercy.
MAY THE GRACE AND PEACE OF OUR LORD AND SAVIOR JESUS CHRIST,
TOGETHER WITH OUR PRAYER, BLESSING AND FORGIVENESS BE WITH ALL

Most honorable brother Hierarchs and blessed children in the Lord,

The grace of our God of love has once again vouchsafed for us to enter the soul-benefiting period of the Lenten Triodion and arrive at Holy and Great Lent, namely to the arena of ascetic struggle replete with gifts from above and the joy of the Cross and Resurrection. During this blessed period, the spiritual treasure and dynamism of the ecclesiastical life as well as the soteriological reference of all its expressions are revealed with clarity.

We have already learned much from the impasse and self-righteous arrogance of the Pharisee, from the barren moralism and hard-heartedness of the elder son in the Parable of the Prodigal Son, and from the callousness and condemnation on the Day of Judgment of those who proved indifferent to the “least of our brothers” that were hungry, thirsty, foreigners, naked, ill, and imprisoned. Moreover, the value and power of humility and repentance, of forgiveness and mercy were revealed to us as attitudes that the Church emphatically calls us to nurture in the period that opens up before us.

Holy and Great Lent is a welcome time of spiritual, inner and physical purification and discipline, which—as we just heard in the Gospel passage that was read—traverses through fasting, which should not be practiced “so that others may see,” and through forgiveness of our brothers and sisters: “For if you forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father also will forgive you” (Mt. 6.14). After all, this is what we confess each day with the Lord’s Prayer, when we say: “as we forgive the sins of our debtors” (Mt. 6.12).

Yesterday, on Cheesefare Saturday, the Church honored the memory of the saintly men and women who shone in ascetic life. Saints are not only models for the faithful in the good fight of life in Christ and according to Christ. They are also our fellow travelers, friends and supporters in the ascetic journey of fasting, repentance, and humility. We are not alone in our effort, but we have God, who encourages and blesses us, as well as the Saints and Martyrs, who stand beside us, and above all the First among the Saints and Mother of God, who intercedes for us all to the Lord. Sanctity is proof of the power of divine grace and the human synergy in the Church, which takes place through participation in the holy sacraments and fulfilment of the divine commandments. There is no “gratuitous piety” or “easy Christianity,” just as there is no “wide gate” or “spacious way” that leads to the heavenly Kingdom (cf. Mt. 7.13–14).

The Church constantly reminds us that salvation is not an individual, but an ecclesiastical event, a common discipline. During the God-guarded Holy and Great Lent, what becomes apparent for the spiritual life of the faithful is the definitive meaning of participation in the life of the community—that is to say, in the Christian family and parish, or else in the monastic coenobium. We would like to highlight the function of the Christian family as a community of life for the experience of Great Lent’s spirituality. Our predecessor among the Saints, John Chrysostom, described the family as “a small Church.”[1] Indeed, it is in the family that occurs the rendering of our existence into that of the church; it is there that the sense of the social and communal character of human life and the life in Christ as well as the love, mutual respect and solidarity are developed; and it is there that the life and joy of cohabitation are experienced as a divine gift.

The joint endeavor to apply the ecclesiastical rule and ethos of fasting in the context of the family manifests the charismatic dimension of ascetic life and, more broadly, the conviction that whatever is true, honorable, and rightful in our life comes to us from above; that despite our own cooperation and contribution, in the end they transcend whatever is humanly achievable and accessible. After all, the communal aspect of life, the love for one another that does not seek its own, and the virtue of forgiveness, do not allow room for human rights-ism and complacency. An expression of such a spirit of “common freedom” and eucharistic asceticism is precisely the inseparable connection between fasting, charity, and participation in the parish and liturgical life of the Church. Living out this “Lenten spirit” within a Christian family leads us to the depth of truth in the ecclesiastical experience and constitutes the birthplace and source of Christian witness in our secularized contemporary world.

Brothers and children, pray that we may all travel with godly zeal along the way of Holy and Great Lent with fasting and repentance, in prayer and contrition, making peace within ourselves and with one another, sharing in life and showing ourselves to be “neighbors” to those in need through charitable works, forgiving one another and glorifying in all circumstances the God of mercy’s name, which is above the heavens, beseeching Him to deem us worthy of reaching Holy and Great Week with purified minds and of worshipping with joy and delight His splendid Resurrection.

Fervent supplicant for all before God

НЕХАЙ БЛАГОДАТЬ І МИР ВІД ГОСПОДА І СПАСА НАШОГО ІСУСА ХРИСТА, РАЗОМ З НАШОЮ МОЛИТВОЮ, БЛАГОСЛОВІННЯМ І ПРОЩЕННЯМ БУДЕ З УСІМА ВАМИ.

Всечесні браття Ієрархи та благословені чада у Господі,

Благодать нашого Бога любові знову сподобила нас увійти в потрібний для душі час Пісної Тріоді і дійти до Святого і Великого посту, до арени подвижницької боротьби, сповненої вишніми дарами і радістю Хреста і Воскресіння. У цей благословенний період, духовний скарб і динамізм церковного життя, а також сoterіологічна довідка всіх його проявів, розкриваються з ясністю.

Ми вже багато чому навчилися з безвихідної та самовдоволеної зарозумілості фарисея, з безплідного моралізаторства та жорстокості старшого сина в притчі про блудного сина, а також з бездушності й осуду в день суду тих, хто виявився байдужими до «найменших наших братів», які були голодними, спраглими, чужинцями, голими, хворими та ув'язненими. Крім того, цінність і сила смирення та покаяння, прощення та милосердя були відкриті нам як погляди, які Церква чітко закликає нас плекати в період, що відкривається перед нами.

Святий і Великий Піст – це бажаний час духовного, внутрішнього і фізичного очищення і дисципліни, який, як ми щойно почули в прочитаному Євангельському уривку, проходить через піст, який не слід практикувати, «щоб інші бачили», а через прощення наших братів і сестер: «Бо коли ви будете людям прощати їхні провини, то й Отець ваш Небесний простить вам» (Мт 6,14). Адже це ми сповідуємо кожного дня молитвою Господньою, коли говоримо: «як і ми прощаемо провини винуватцям нашим» (Мт 6,12).

Церква постійно нагадує нам, що спасіння – це не індивідуальна, а церковна подія, загальна дисципліна. Під час Богом-береженого Святого і Великого посту, те, що стає очевидним для духовного життя вірних – остаточний сенс участі в житті громади – в християнській сім’ї та парафії, або у монастирській спільноті.

Ще одно: через участь у Святих Таїнствах і виконання Божих Заповідей. Немає “даремної побожності” чи “легкого християнства”, як немає “широких воріт” чи “просторої дороги”, що веде до Небесного Царства (пор. Мт 7,13–14).

Спільне постійне застосування церковної церковної справи, або епігід маловідомого зразку радування, виникне християнський вимір аскетичного життя і переконання, що все, що є правдивим, чесним і правильним у нашій житті, приходить до нас з висоти; що незважаючи на нашу власну співпрацю та внесок, вони перевершують усе, що є доситьним і доступним людиною. Рештю, спільний вихід життя, любов до і до одного до одного, яка не шукає свого, і чеснота прощення не дають місця правозахисниці та самоодвагілією. Виразом такого духу “загальної свободи” та євхаристійного подвижництва є саме нерозривний зв’язок між постом, милосердом та участию в парафіяльному та літургійному житті Церкви. Переживання цього “духа Великого посту” в християнській родині веде нас до глибини істини в церковному досвіді та становить місце народження та джерело християнського свідчення в нашему секуляризованому сучасному світі.

Браття і чада, моліться, щоб усі ми з побожною ревністю пройшли дорогу Святої і Великої чотиридесятниці пістьом і покаянням, у молитві й каянні, шукання у себі й між собою, діяльність у щоденному житті та виявлення себе “ближнім” кожному, хто потребує через милосердя, прощаючи одній одному і прославляючи йм’я Бога милосердом, що над небесами, в будь-яких обставинах, благаючи Його, щоб Він удостоїв нас досягти Святої і Великої седмиці з очищеним розумом і прославити з радістю і втіхою Його преславне Воскресіння.

Святий і Великий Піст 2024 року

“Let us observe a fast acceptable and pleasing to the Lord.”

Dearly Beloved Brothers and Sisters – Clergy and Laity - Faithful of our Holy Ukrainian Orthodox Church throughout the World,

CHRIST IS AMONGST US! IS AND ALWAYS SHALL BE!

As we embark on the sacred journey of Eastern Orthodox Great Lent, let us fast not only from food but from sin and everything that leads us into sinful behavior, belief and deeds; let us fast with love and humility as a means to an end and not an end in itself; let us reflect on the purpose of fasting, as a foundation of our spiritual growth and the desire to become one with God. Drawing inspiration from the Holy Fathers, who remind us of the transformative power of repentance, and Holy Scripture, which guides us on the path of humility, may this Lenten season be a time of profound self-reflection, prayer, and adherence to the teachings of our Holy Orthodox Tradition.

In the words of Saint John Chrysostom, “Lent is a healing therapy for the soul,” urging us to purify our hearts and draw nearer to the Divine. Let us heed the call of Saint Isaac the Syrian, who implores us to “make space for God within us.” Through fasting, prayer, and almsgiving, we strive to emulate Christ’s humility and seek a deeper connection with our Creator. The second Secretary General, Dag Hammarskjöld, of the newly created United Nations once expressed a profound thought – “The longest journey is the journey inwards, of him (or her) who has started upon a quest for the source of his (her) being.” As Orthodox Christians we are blessed daily in knowing the “Source of our being” through the Scriptural exposition of creation and God’s unending efforts to express His Love for us, even allowing the sacrifice of His Only-Begotten Son as a ransom for our salvation.

May the wisdom of the Holy Fathers and the guidance of Holy Scripture illuminate our Lenten journey, fostering spiritual renewal, repentance, and a profound sense of gratitude for that sacrifice of our Lord. As we walk this path together, let our collective prayers and endeavors strengthen our faith, bringing us closer to the Resurrection and the eternal joy that awaits. Each of us must enter Great Lent with the intention to begin the journey inwards with more intensity than ever before in our lives.

Yes, let us honestly fast from food with the goal of physical, mental, and emotional effect as the first step in this journey inwards. The effect should be hunger and comprehension of just how much our Loving God has provided for us. Then the fast must expand to include change of behavior – reading Holy Scripture, worshipping at all the Lenten liturgical services, and putting aside the things that will, without doubt, distract us from the inward journey: our mobile phones, tablets, all forms of social media, all forms of visual entertainment that will not deepen our journey inwards to unity with the Divine.

Is the Lenten journey inwards easy? NO! Our salvation, however, demands that we embark upon it to have any hope at all to experience God’s energies. We cannot experience His Essence, but we can, having become one with Him at the core of our being, experience His uncreated and eternal energies or manifestations of His Divinity – as the Apostles Peter, James and John experienced His Divine Light – uncreated and pure – at the Transfiguration. May we all understand completely that the experience of the Apostles on Mt. Tabor is possible for each of us if our journey inwards is real, sincere, and filled with love for God and for each other.

We shall be praying fervently for all of you throughout this Great Lenten Fast-Journey and we beseech your prayers for us, your Spiritual Fathers…

In our Lord’s All-Encompassing Love,

Дорогі Брати і Сестри – Духовенство та Миряни – Вірні нашої Святої Української Православної Церкви по всьому Світі, ХРИСТОС ПОСЕРЕД НАС! Є І ЗАВЖДИ БУДЕ!

Ступаючи на священну подорож Східно-Православного Великого Посту, ми постимо не лише від їжі, але й від гріха і всього, що веде нас до гріховної поведінки, вірування та вчинків. Давайте постити з любов’ю та смиренням, де основною ціллю не виступає саме дотримання посту, а є насправді засобом для досягнення вищої духовної мети; давайте поміркуємо над метою посту, як основою нашого духовного зростання та прагнення з’єднатися з Богом.

Черпаючи натхнення у Святих Отців, які нагадують нам про рушійну силу покаяння, і Святого Письма, яке веде нас на шляху смирення, нехай цей період Великого Посту буде часом глибокого переосмислення, молитви та дотримання вчення нашої Святої Православної Традиції.

Ми будемо усердно молитися за всіх вас протягом цієї Великої Постової Подорожі і благаємо ваших молитов за нас, ваших Духовних Отців…

17 березня 2024 року – Неділя Прощення Саут- Баунд-Брук, Нью-Джерсі
I regularly meet with non-Orthodox Christian friends, whose company I enjoy and greatly benefit from. One guy, I'll call him Jim, comes from a Christian tradition where infant baptism is not practiced. We've spent much time and burned up the Internet wires with emails discussing the pros and cons of this practice of baptism infants. On the one hand, we can see this presumed baptism of children in the New Testament (i.e. Acts 16:15, 33), in the baptism of ‘households’ in the early Church. Infant baptism is explicitly attested to by Church fathers in the second century. Today, infants are baptized routinely in the Orthodox Church, with the presumption that they will be raised as Orthodox Christians.

Yet my friend Jim insists that real Christian faith is personal and must be accepted in the heart as one’s own personal life stance on the subject – saying, ‘I believe in Jesus, and stand with Him as my Lord.’ You may have friends who believe the same. Many Orthodox Christians have never been explicitly led to make such a statement directly. But those that do sometimes experience an infusion of a renewed faith in Jesus. Some might actually leave the Orthodox Church for experience an infusion of a renewed faith in Jesus. Christians have never been explicitly led to make such a choice as ‘following Christ’ or not, but in more generic terms like doing ‘right’ or ‘wrong’. But in Orthodoxy there really is a time for adults to get serious about Jesus and choosing to live for Him. It’s called Great Lent – it’s about my conversion to Christ.

Great Lent mirrors the process whereby the early Church brought people into the Christian Faith through Baptism. Orthodoxy still retains all of the practices and even the wording of the Baptism ritual for receiving a convert into the Church, which is identical to the baptism of an infant. Now here’s the key to it – the process of preparation of people for Baptism took place during the forty days prior to the celebration of the Resurrection (Paschal), which we now call Great Lent. Great Lent is built upon the template of Christian conversion – the catechumenate,¹ wherein people came to make their choice to ‘live for Christ’, and submit themselves to Him, and receive the forgiveness of sins in Baptism, the seal of the Holy Spirit in Chrismation and then, union with Him in Holy Communion.

So what’s going on?

Well, actually, the Moment of Choice is upon us, every moment of every day. We can choose to follow Christ in faith, or not. Many people don’t think of such a choice as ‘following Christ’ or not, but in more generic terms like doing ‘right’ or ‘wrong’. But in Orthodoxy there really is a time for adults to get serious about Jesus and choosing to live for Him. It’s called Great Lent – it’s about my conversion to Christ.

Every Great Lent becomes the Moment when an Orthodox Christian is invited to commit himself to Jesus.

The early Christians desired to renew their commitment and zeal for Christ in the Church. The forty days became an opportunity to revisit their ‘first love’ in coming to know and love the Lord as a Christian. They would walk through this time listening to the exhortations of the Bishop or priests to those yet unbaptized, and they would be moved to renew their personal faith in Him. They would not be re-baptized² but would walk with those they sponsored for baptism leading them to Christ. This became a cycle of spiritual faith renewal every year, mirroring that initial adult conversion to Christ as a catechumen.

Learning from the Ancient Church

What are some of these elements of this Christian conversion? The ancient Baptismal ritual points out what’s necessary. First, the unbaptized person must struggle against the Devil. They are shown that, on their own, they cannot win this battle with sin and temptation. So, the Church, through exorcism, casts out the Devil to ‘sweep the house’ of the soul. (Mt. 12:43)

A catechumen, before baptism, stood outside the Church and said aloud ‘I renounce Satan, his works, his pomp and all service to Him.’ He is instructed to do so by the priest while facing West – the place of darkness – speaking out against Satan. How freeing that must be!

But every Christian must still renounce Satan. But what of the person who has already been baptized? Great Lent is the time we renounce Satan again! We examine ourselves again and again daily to fight against the sins that plague us and the Evil One who provokes us to sin. We engage in spiritual exercises like fasting and prostrations, which the monastics show us are efficacious in combating the devil.³ The ancient Church had a practice of ‘scrutiny’ whereby a person who wanted to live the Christian life had to be examined and answer questions about his/her life and lifestyle and whether it reflected an honest attempt to live in a Christian moral manner or live like a godless person in a worldly way. During Great Lent, the Orthodox Church undergoes scrutiny, examining her life and the times when she has chased after worldly pleasures rather than accepted the cross of Christ. The Examination of Conscience before Confession is our scrutiny, and traditionally, the priest asked the penitent many specific questions how they were living their lives.⁴ Our Confession is our renouning of Satan and re-turning to Christ. It is Christ who empowers us to say ‘No’ to Satan and evil works.

This ‘turning toward’ Christ for the unbaptized person is literal. After renouncing Satan, he turns toward the altar, the East, the Rising Sun, who is Christ. As baptized Christians, we are to turn to Christ as well – again and again – and we do so explicitly every time we enter the doors of the Church, which is frequently during Great Lent. The decision to come to Church for Lenten services can be an explicit decision to ‘turn to Christ’ if we so choose it. This is akin to the Protestant folks when they say, ‘I’m turning my life over to Christ.’ It’s what we’re doing as well.

The catechumen then, after affirming his faith is directed to ‘Bow down and worship Christ.’ This is the first time that, free of the bonds of the Evil One, he can do what Christians can do and are implored to do, ‘Come, let us worship and bow down before Christ.’ These are the words of the ‘Little Entrance’ in the Divine Liturgy, which really encapsulates what the Orthodox Christian life is about; we are privileged to become worshippers of the one true God. The catechumen then professes the Nicene Creed, as they have been taught it’s meaning – it becomes their personal statement of Faith as it is ours.⁵ In Great Lent, the Sunday of Orthodoxy⁶ serves

1. We profess one, and only one, Baptism. Penance is the means of restoring our Baptismal purity. Lent is about Penance.
2. In the baptismal ritual, the catechumen literally turns around to face the West and says, ‘I do renounce Satan.’
3. Reading the spiritual ascetic Fathers and Mothers teachings show us how we must be heroic in our struggle against sin and strengthened by prayer, fasting and almsgiving during Lent.
4. These questions can still be asked, but usually are not because of time constraints. It is a good idea to schedule a time for confession with your priest outside of ‘regular’ confession time where the real issues of life can be hashed out, and healed.
5. A monk told me once how important it is to enter Church mindfully, with purpose, so as to explicitly seek Christ, rather than casually or out of mere habit. It is so easy to make ‘going to church’ something we just ‘do’ because Mum or Baba would be mad if we didn’t.
6. The Sunday of Orthodoxy is celebrated the First Sunday of Lent. The Faith we are reminded is in the Orthodox Faith, the fullness and nothing less. There is an explicit renunciation of those belief systems that are heretical or incomplete or in error in some way, including certain Protestant beliefs.
as our touchstone to the fullness of the Nicene Faith as it has been proclaimed and lived over two millennia.

After a final prayer the catechumen is led into the Church for Baptism, Chrismation and Holy Communion—the fullness of the life in Christ. There is a subtle, but important aspect to this. Sometimes, those against infant baptism insist that everyone must accept Christ individually and that no sponsor can ‘accept Christ’ for someone else. While there’s some truth to this, it overlooks something that the ritual makes clear. The catechumen is led into the Church. No one ‘walks into the Church’ on his own to become a Christian and becomes a true worshipper of God. Everyone who has been made a Christian has been led there, first by God’s grace, then through the instrumentality of through others. We, especially Americans, in our penchant for individualism, can be tempted in pride to make even our acceptance of Christ something very much our own doing. The Orthodox view is that it is solely the grace of God, which leads us to His Church through which our adherence to the process of conversion, commitment, renewal and Communion with Christ that makes us “true worshippers” of Him.

Stewardship and Faith – Great Lent

So, what does stewardship have to do with this? I would offer two brief thoughts. First, Great Lent invites each of us to take stock of our personal stewardship of the Gift of Faith in our own lives. This time of Lent is a time to rediscover what we must do to again be worthy stewards of this great calling we have all received to follow Christ in the Church. To take Great Lent seriously means to be a steward of our Orthodox Faith personally and make our own personal commitment to live for Jesus. All of our efforts, prayer, fasting, almsgiving10 have this goal—to live more fully for Jesus, to effectively steward the Gift of Faith in our souls personally.

Secondly, in the spirit of the paragraph above, when we realize that every person is led into a personal faith relationship in Jesus Christ by someone else, we can now realize that the stewardship of the Mission of Christ is entrusted to us—to lead other people to Christ. Whether it’s as a godparent carrying an infant into the presence of Christ in the Church, or a teen talking about her joyful experience of faith at Camp, or a young man inviting his girlfriend who’s never been in an Orthodox Church to come with him to a service, or in the countless scenarios where adults can invite co-workers, neighbors, in-laws, or those we’re serving to experience Christ in the Church. You and I can be the stewards of faith who invite other people to believe in Jesus. The Church, as a body and its ministers (priests and others) are all there to work with you and with God’s grace so that the people you lead will enter into the doors of the Church no longer as outsiders, but believers who are brothers and sisters. We all are, truly, stewards of this Gift of Faith.

Great Lent inspires, instructs and compels us to do no less if we love our neighbor and love the Lord, to steward our faith internally, and by sharing it with others. Ω

10 Almsgiving is profoundly tied to stewardship, but will need to be discussed at another time.

Great Lent marks the period of preparation leading up to the celebration of Christ’s Resurrection, serving as a profound reflection of humanity’s journey towards eventual resurrection alongside Christ. It is a season of spiritual rejuvenation, characterized by intensified devotion through prayer, fasting, and acts of charity. This time invites a deepened sense of repentance, prompting a genuine transformation of mind, heart, and conduct to align with Christ’s teachings and commandments centered on love for God and one another.

Contrary to any notion of gloom, Great Lent in the Orthodox Church embodies a spirit of joyfulness and purification. It calls for a renewal of both physical and spiritual cleanliness, echoing the sentiment expressed in its inaugural hymns:

Let us begin the lenten time with delight ... let us fast from passions as we fast from food, taking pleasure in the good words of the Spirit, that we may be granted to see the holy passion of Christ our God and his holy Pascha, spiritually rejoicing.

Thy grace has arisen upon us, O Lord, the illumination of our souls has shown forth; behold, now is the acceptable time; behold, now is the time of repentance (Vesper Hymns).

In this season, characterized by the illumination of our souls through divine grace, we recognize the present opportunity for repentance and transformation, not dwelling in mere remorse but rejoicing in the boundless mercy of God. Our fasting and self-denial are not exercises in despair but rather affirmations of our anticipation of resurrection—both that of Christ and ourselves— ushering us into eternal life. Thus, Great Lent becomes a time of profound spiritual preparation for the celebration of Christ’s Resurrection and our own eventual resurrection.

LENTEN SERVICES

The weekday services of Great Lent are characterized by special Lenten melodies of a penitential character. The Royal Gates to the altar remain closed to signify man’s separation through sin from the Kingdom of God. The church vesting is of a somber color, usually purple. The daily troparia are also of an intercessory character, entreating God through his saints to have mercy on us sinners.

At the Matins the long Alleluia replaces the psalm: God is the Lord... The Psalmsody is increased. The hymnology refers to the lenten effort. Scripture readings from Genesis and Proverbs are added to Vespers, and the Prophecy of Isaiah to the Sixth Hour. Each of these books is read nearly in its entirety during the lenten period. Epistle and Gospel readings are absent because there are no Divine Liturgies.

At all of the Lenten services the Prayer of St Ephraim of Syria is read (refer to inside front cover). It supplicates God for those virtues especially necessary to the Christian life.

The Vesper service which begins the Lenten season is called the Vespers of Forgiveness. It is customary at this... service for the faithful to ask forgiveness and to forgive each other. At the Compline services of the first week of Lent the Canon of St Andrew of Crete is read. This is a long series of penitential verses based on Biblical themes, to each of which the people respond: Have mercy on me, O God, have mercy on me.

On Friday evening of the fifth week, the Akathist Hymn to the Mother of God is sung; and the Saturday Divine Liturgy also honors the Theotokos.

The first Saturday of Great Lent is dedicated to the memory of St Theodore of Tyre. The second, third, and fourth Saturdays are called Memorial Saturdays since they are dedicated to the remembrance of the dead.

On Memorial Saturdays the liturgical hymns pray universally for all of the departed, and the Matins for the dead, popularly called the parastasis or panikhida, is served with specific mention of the deceased by name. Litanies and prayers are also added to the Divine Liturgy at which the scripture readings refer to the dead and their salvation by Christ.

Saturday, even during the non-lenten season, is the Church’s day for remembering the dead. This is so because Saturday, the Sabbath Day, stands as the day which God blessed for life in this world. Because of sin, however, this day now symbolizes all of earthly life as naturally fulfilled in death. Even Christ the Lord lay dead on the Sabbath Day, "resting from all of his works" and "trampling down death by death." Thus, in the New Testament Church of Christ, Saturday becomes the proper day for remembering the dead and for offering prayers for their eternal salvation.

LITURGY OF THE PRESANCTIFIED GIFTS

As previously discussed, the Orthodox Church refrains from celebrating the eucharistic Divine Liturgy on weekdays during Lent. To support the faithful in their Lenten journey with participation in Holy Communion, the Liturgy of the Presanctified Gifts is conducted. This service holds ancient roots within Orthodox tradition, officially documented in seventh-century canons, although its origins likely date back much further.

On all days of the holy fast of Lent, except on the Sabbath, the Lord’s Day, and the holy day of the Annunciation, the Liturgy of the Presanctified is to be served (Canon 52, Quinisext, 692).

This evening service combines solemn Lenten Vespers with the administration of Holy Communion. Notably, there is no consecration of new Eucharistic Gifts during the Presanctified Liturgy. Instead, Holy Communion is distributed from elements consecrated during the previous Sunday’s Divine Liturgy, hence its name “presanctified.”

Typically held on Wednesday and Friday evenings, though some churches may opt for one of these days, the service follows a day of spiritual preparation and fasting. While some faithful may consume a light lenten meal early in the morning if unable to observe total fasting due to weakness or work obligations, a complete fast is preferable, if possible.

During Vespers, preparations for communion commence as the Presanctified Gifts are transferred from the altar table where they have been reserved since the Divine Liturgy, and are placed on the table of oblation. After the evening hymn, the Old Testamental scriptures of Genesis and Proverbs are read, between which the priest blesses the kneeling congregation with a lighted candle and the words: "The Light of Christ illuminates all," indicating that all wisdom is given by Christ in the Church through the scriptures and sacraments.

This blessing was originally directed primarily to the catechumens—those preparing to be baptized on Easter—who attended the service only to the time of the communion of the faithful.

After the readings, the evening Psalm 141 is solemnly sung once again with the offering of incense. Then, after the Litanies of intercession and those at which the catechumens were dismissed in former days, the presanctified eucharistic gifts are brought to the altar in a solemn, silent procession. The song of the entrance calls the faithful to communion.

Now the heavenly powers (i.e., the angels) do minister invisibly with us. For behold the King of Glory enters. Behold the mystical sacrifice, all fulfilled, is ushered in.

Let us with faith and love draw near that we may be partakers of everlasting life. Alleluia. Alleluia. Alleluia.

After the litany and prayers, the Our Father is sung and the faithful receive Holy Communion to the chanting of the verse from Psalm 34: "O taste and see how good is the Lord. Alleluia." The post-communion hymns are sung and the faithful depart with a prayer to God who “has brought us to these all-holy days for the cleansing of carnal passions,” that he will bless us “to fight the good fight, to accomplish the course of the fast, and to attain unto and to adore the holy resurrection” of Christ.
SUNDAY OF ORTHODOXY
Each of the Sundays of Great Lent has its own special theme. The first Sunday is called the Feast of the Triumph of Orthodoxy. It is a historical feast commemorating the return of the icons to the churches in the year 843 after the heresy of iconoclasm was overcome. The spiritual theme of the day is first of all the victory of the True Faith. "This is the victory that overcomes the world, our faith" (1 Jn 5:4). Secondly, the icons of the saints bear witness that man, "created in the image and likeness of God" (Gen 1:26), becomes holy and godlike through the purification of himself as God's living image.

COMMEMORATION OF ST. GREGORY PALAMAS
The Second Sunday of Lent is the commemoration of St Gregory Palamas. It was St. Gregory (d.1359) who bore living witness that men can become divine through the grace of God in the Holy Spirit; and that even in this life, by prayer and fasting, human beings can become participants of the uncreated light of God's divine glory.

VENERATION OF THE CROSS
The Third Sunday of Lent is that of the Veneration of the Cross. The cross stands in the midst of the church in the middle of the Lenten season not merely to remind men of Christ's redemption and to keep before them the goal of their efforts, but also to be venerated as that reality by which man must live to be saved. "He who does not take up his cross and follow me is not worthy of me" (Mt 10:38). For in the Cross of Christ Crucified lies both "the power of God and the wisdom of God" for those being saved (1 Cor 1:24).

COMMEMORATION OF ST JOHN OF THE LADDER (CLIMACUS)
The Fourth Sunday of Lent is dedicated to St John of the Ladder (Climacus), the author of the work, The Ladder of Divine Ascent. The abbot of St Catherine's Monastery on Mount Sinai (6th century) stands as a witness to the violent effort needed for entrance into God's Kingdom (Mt 10: 12). The spiritual struggle of the Christian life is a real one, "not against flesh and blood, but against... the rulers of the present darkness... the hosts of wickedness in heavenly places ..." (Eph 6:12). Saint John encourages the faithful in their efforts for, according to the Lord, only "he who endures to the end will be saved" (Mt 24:13).

COMMEMORATION OF ST MARY OF EGYPT
The Fifth Sunday recalls the memory of Saint Mary of Egypt, the repentant harlot. Mary tells us, first of all, that no amount of sin and wickedness can keep a person from God if he truly repents. Christ himself has come "to call sinners to repentance" and to save them from their sins (Lk 5:32). In addition, Saint Mary tells us that it is never too late in life—or in Lent—to repent. Christ will gladly receive all who come to him even at the eleventh hour of their lives. But their coming must be in serious and sincere repentance.

In a powerful demonstration of compassion and service, seminarians and recent graduates of St. Sophia Ukrainian Orthodox Theological Seminary of the Ukrainian Orthodox Church of the USA recently joined Archbishop Daniel, the Academic Dean of the Seminary, and Very Rev. Fr. Vasyl Pasakas (Dean of Students) in donating blood at the local Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital in Somerset, NJ. This act of altruism not only provided life-saving means but also exemplified the seminarians’ commitment to embodying the teachings of their faith through tangible acts of kindness and solidarity with the community.

The initiative, organized in collaboration with the hospital, reflects the seminary’s dedication to instilling values of compassion, empathy, and social responsibility within its student body. Under the guidance of Archbishop Daniel and Fr. Vasyl Pasakas, the seminarians embraced the opportunity to make a meaningful impact in the lives of others by giving the gift of life through blood donation.

His guidance and support helped facilitate the logistics of the initiative, ensuring that the seminarians could participate in a meaningful and efficient manner. The seminarians, eager to contribute to the greater good, embraced the opportunity to donate blood with enthusiasm and gratitude. Their selfless actions not only provided life-saving assistance to those in need but also served as a testament to their commitment to living out the principles of their faith in practical ways.

As they rolled up their sleeves and donated blood, the seminarians embodied the spirit of Christian charity and compassion, following in the footsteps of Christ, who taught us to love our neighbors as ourselves. Their willingness to give of themselves for the benefit of others exemplifies the transformative power of faith in action and serves as an inspiration to their peers and the wider community.

Through their collective effort, Archbishop Daniel, Fr. Vasyl Pasakas, and the seminarians of St. Sophia Ukrainian Orthodox Theological Seminary have demonstrated the profound impact that individuals and communities can have when they come together in service to others. Their commitment to providing life-saving means through blood donation reflects the essence of Orthodox Christian values and serves as a beacon of hope and healing in a world that is often marked by division and strife.

As we near the second anniversary of the unprovoked full-scale Russian invasion of Ukraine, the nation suffers under renewed and intensified attacks. This week the Russian troops shelled residential areas in the Donetsk region, with over 13 separate attacks in a single day, utilizing drones, rockets, anti-aircraft missiles and artillery. In Kharkiv, families including children and elderly died horrifically, burned to death as their homes went up in flames. The missile attacks have targeted and destroyed residential housing, schools, hospitals and civilian infrastructure, making it nearly impossible for the residents in these areas to survive, to escape, or for assistance to reach them.

Even in these dire circumstances however, aid does reach them, and it plays a pivotal role in alleviating the immense suffering experienced by internally displaced persons (IDPs) and civilians who have been profoundly affected by the ongoing aggression. The crisis has forced many individuals and families to flee their homes, leaving behind not only their demolished residences but also their sense of security and stability. Humanitarian assistance has become a lifeline for these individuals, who are grappling with the loss of loved ones, homes, and the disruption of their daily lives.

With the prayers and blessing of Metropolitan Antony (of the Church of the USA and Diaspora), Archbishop Daniel, Ruling Hierarch of the Western Eparchy of the UOC of the USA and Consistory President, provided resources collected by the Church to aid Ukrainians in their hour of need. Funds are distributed in the Donetsk and Mariupol Eparchy (under the leadership of Metropolitan Serhiy), through the service of Rev. Fr. Kostyantyn Kuznetsov, who along with his wife Natalia, and team of volunteers, oversees the delivery of the donated food and logistical items to the refugees and the men and women of the Ukrainian Armed Forces, assuring the suffering people of Ukraine of continuing prayers on their behalf, and expressing love and concern through the provision of much needed supplies.

Recently, Fr. Kostyantyn, along with his wife Natalia, delivered aid to needy families in the cities of Pokrovsk, Myronohrad, Kostyantynivka, and the surrounding areas near Bakhmut. The need is beyond words. Families are left devastated. No roof over their heads. No fresh water. No heat. No food. These people feel forgotten by the world. However, they are not forgotten by God, nor the Church and her faithful, who do God’s work.

Fr. Kostyantyn and his team regularly travel to these remote areas, even under the threat of ongoing missile attacks, to deliver the much-needed aid. For civilians who have remained in the conflict zones or areas with limited access to resources, this humanitarian aid provides a glimmer of hope amid the devastation. There are no words to express the gratitude of these individuals. Elderly grandmothers wipe tears from their cheeks as they shakily accept handouts of food and hygiene items. Mothers are overjoyed as they are handed a package of diapers and formula for their infants, and small gifts of toys and candies to bring a bit of joy to distraught and traumatized children. Fresh fruit is a luxury, and the cold hands eagerly reach out for apples and oranges.
The elderly suffer in silence, left to fend for themselves. They shiver in their cold homes with windows blown out and roofs torn off. They no longer have access to their prescribed medicines, no hygiene products, and no fresh vegetables. They spend their days in prayer, praying for their children and grandchildren – those who are fighting on the front lines, and those who are fleeing for their lives. They praise the Lord when a knock on their door reveals a bag filled with pasta, rice, canned goods, pickled items, cookies, bread, and other food items delivered by the brave volunteers.

While fleeing for their lives many people from Bakhmut, Toretsk, Chasiv Yaru, Avdiivka, etc. have found themselves at the mercy of handouts and aid. They have no employment, and arrive with only the clothing on their backs, as they settle further from the war zone and try to rebuild their lives, giving their children some sense of normalcy. These individuals visit the Humanitarian Center in Kostyantynivka, arriving with various needs and requests. Nobody leaves empty handed. They receive medical supplies, hygiene products, heaters, water, food, and other items to help them in their daily lives.

In addition to helping the civilians suffering in Ukraine, funds are used to assist the military as they fight for the freedom of not only Ukraine, but, of all neighboring nations. Medical supplies, thermal clothing, boots, generators, and transport vehicles are purchased and delivered to the frontlines. These items are crucial in strengthening the men and women who are fighting, reminding them that they have the support and love of the people whom they defend.

As the aggression continues, as the destruction continues, as the terror continues, displacement and loss have become tragically commonplace in Ukraine, making international collaboration and sustained humanitarian efforts crucial. The provision of aid not only meets immediate needs but also lays the groundwork for long-term recovery and rebuilding of shattered lives. Humanitarian assistance serves as a testament to global solidarity, shared responsibility of the international community, and the practice of Christian responsibility towards others.

Please consider being part of this global effort by donating to the Ukrainian Orthodox Church of the USA’s Humanitarian Relief Fund.
Ми, члени Всеукраїнської Ради Церков і релігійних організацій, які боронять європейські свободу і саме життя на передовій, змагаються за людську гідність і мають більшого світу на фронті і в тилу, категорично заявляємо, що ніхто і ніколи не примусить наш народ капітулювати.

Україна стікає кров'ю, але стоїть за Правду, за право бути самовою. Стоять мужньо і непереборно. І якби вона капітулювала, то Європа, можливо, увесь світ відразу відчув би це. Відчув би і здрігнулися. Бо – це повторення злочинів Бучі й Ірпеня, це подальша руйнування міст і сіл, причому майже напевно – не лише українських, це діти, які назавжди залишилися дітьми, це ще десятки й сотні закатованих священників, які проповідують Бога, низьку людей, але не «Руський мір», це торжество зла на цілій планеті.

Тому ми благословлюємо і благословляємо наших вірних на захист своєї країни, молимося за Перемогу над ворогом і справедливий мир, простягнемо руку всім людям добрий волі, які підтримують Україну в цей вирішальний час. Ми віримо і знаємо, що ніколи не залишаємо у цьому ходінці.

Ми щоденно молимося за мир. За повернення наших бійців з фронту, звільнення від загонів, залучення на фронт менше господарів. Але, зрозуміло, на мілісті цього ворога - це не мир. Це боротьба за людську історичну справедливість і надзвичайно важливі для великих духовних традицій;

We, members of the All-Ukrainian Council of Churches and religious organizations, whose faithful defend freedom and life itself on the front lines today, fight for human dignity and the future of the free world at the front and in the rear, categorically declare that no one will ever force our people to surrender. Ukraine is bleeding, but it stands for the Truth, for the right to be itself. Stands bravely and irresistiibly.

And if it capitulated, then Europe, maybe the whole world would immediately feel it. They would feel it and shudder. Because this is a repetition of the crimes of Bucha and Irpen, this is the further destruction of cities and villages, and almost certainly not only Ukrainian ones, these are children who remained children forever, these are dozens and hundreds of tortured priests who preach God's commandments, not "Russian peace"; this is the triumph of evil on the whole planet.

Україна стікає кров'ю, але стоїть за Правду, за право бути самовою. Стоять мужньо і непереборно. І якби вона капітулювала, то Європа, можливо, увесь світ відразу відчув би це. Відчув би і здрігнулися. Бо – це повторення злочинів Бучі й Ірпеня, це подальша руйнування міст і сіл, причому майже напевно – не лише українських, це діти, які назавжди залишилися дітьми, це ще десятки й сотні закатованих священників, які проповідують Бога, низьку людей, але не "Руський мір", це торжество зла на цілій планеті.

We pray for peace every day. For the return of our soldiers from the front, hostages from captivity, refugees from abroad. For understanding between peoples and healing the wounds caused by war. But surrendering to the mercy of this enemy is not about peace. It is about the victory of slavery over freedom, darkness over light, about the supremacy of the right of the strong over the force of law. We have experienced this bitterly and repeatedly over the past centuries.

To capitulate to triumphant evil is tantamount to the collapse of the universal idea of justice, a betrayal of the fundamental instructions bequeathed to us in the great spiritual traditions.

Therefore, we bless and will bless our faithful for the defense of our country, we will pray for Victory over the enemy and a just peace, we will extend our hand to all people of good will who support Ukraine at this crucial time. We believe and know that we will never be alone in this.

“For the Lord loves a just judgment and will not abandon those who are faithful to Him. They will be preserved forever” (Ps. 36:28)

Mission Sunday 2024

“How beautiful are the feet of those who preach the gospel of peace. Who bring glad tidings of good things!” (Romans 10:15)

To the Reverend Clergy, Monastics, and Faithful of the Holy Orthodox Churches in the United States:

On Sunday, March 17th, just prior to Great Lent, Orthodox Christian churches throughout our nation will once again observe Mission Sunday, the day that reminds us of the importance of preaching Christ’s “gospel of peace” and offering our support to those who bring these “glad tidings”. As St. Paul further reminds us: “How then shall they call on Him in whom they have not believed? And how shall they believe in Him whom they have not heard? And how shall they hear without a preacher? And how shall they preach unless they are sent?” (Romans 10:14)

The Orthodox Christian Mission Center (OCMC) is the agency of the Assembly of Canonical Orthodox Bishops of the United States of America that coordinates our missionary efforts by:

- Sending Missionaries – Currently, 17 OCMC missionaries and their families have been sent to preach the gospel of peace in Albania, Brazil, Fiji, Guatemala, Mexico, Romania, and Tonga.
- Supporting Mission Priests – Almost 500 local priests, mostly in Africa, receive monthly financial assistance so that they might help their local people to hear about Jesus Christ.
- Supporting seminaries and training Church Leaders and Clergy – In Albania, Guatemala, Kenya, Madagascar, Southeast Asia, and elsewhere OCMC sends missionaries and/or funds to help train future clergy and church leaders who guide people who have heard the Good News, to believe in Jesus Christ and call upon Him.
- Funding Missions Initiatives – In 2023, just over $1 million was sent around the world so that the Church could bring the good things that Christ promises to His creation – reaching unevangelized regions, establishing the Church, and tending to the physical, emotional, and spiritual needs of His people.

Therefore, on Mission Sunday, and every day, I pray that each of us will support the Holy Church’s most critical mission by one or more of the following:

1. Pray for the missionaries and mission priests around the world who, like the apostles, preach the Lord’s gospel of peace!
2. Support OCMC in its efforts to help more people call on the Lord.
3. Engage your communities and youth in this important work throughout Great Lent by ordering special missions Coin Boxes and Sunday School Lesson Plans to help spread glad tidings of good things offered by Christ Himself!

May your Lenten journey be blessed and may we all have the courage to preach Christ’s gospel of peace and bring His glad tidings to the ends of the earth!

With Blessings in Christ,

Archbishop Daniel

A Ukrainian Journey of Hope and Courage

After a long and arduous life, my Mom, Olga Lisewych has passed away. This November, she would have been 100 years old.

Her story began in a small village in Western Ukraine. Until her marriage in 1942, she had never traveled more than a few kilometers from home. The German’s had just taken control of the region from the Russians. My grandfather told her, “You must get married and leave home, the Russians will soon return and living will become much worse.” He knew the impending horror of Communism, when they later collectivized his homestead, and sent him to a Siberian prison camp for seven years. In 1953, Stalin died, and many prisoners were released. My grandfather did not live long upon his return home.

Now, 80 years later, history is repeating itself with the horrible Russian invasion of Ukraine.

During WWII, my parents produced spam meat products for the German Army. Luckily Ansbach was never bombed. Born after WWII, at age three, one of my earliest memories was holding her hand as U.S. Army trucks took us to Hamburg, Germany, where she and my dad, Michael, journeyed by ship to America, and a new beginning in 1949.

Fast forward to many years of hard work in Pittsburgh, PA. I recall mom cleaning downtown banks at midnight, and dad at hard work as a butcher. Pittsburgh has a large Ukrainian diaspora. Fond weekends were filled with Ukrainian Orthodox Church holiday celebrations. And many Sundays with my godparents, the Olijnyk family, at their home, watching Ed Sullivan on TV.

Then a move to Hollywood, FL, where they owned and managed a hotel and small apartment complex. Thanksgivings were always a treat for guests and residents when mom and dad brought out the turkey along with Ukrainian borsch, varenike, and holubtsi. They were both wonderful cooks.

Upon my dad’s passing in 1991, my mom moved to Wenatchee, WA, to be close to my family. Outgoing and social, she soon became good friends with the many kind folks in Wenatchee.

During her last days, Greg thoughtfully played traditional Ukrainian music on his iPhone. A longtime choir singer, she recalled some verses, and even managed to sing along.

My mom is survived by me, her only child, Jerry Lisewych; my wife, Judy; and two outstanding grandsons: Nick and Greg. She also has nieces and nephews in Ukraine.

In memory of Olga Lisewych, her son Jerry Lisewych, donated $100,000 to the Ukrainian Humanitarian Aid through the Ukrainian Orthodox Church of the USA. Donation will go to help people in Ukraine who suffered from the aggressor because of war.

INGREDIENTS
2 tbsp olive oil
1 onion, chopped (white, brown, yellow)
2 garlic cloves, minced
1 large carrot, chopped (about 1 1/4 cups)
2 celery ribs, chopped (about 1 1/4 cups)
2 cups /400g dried lentils, green or brown, rinsed
400g /14 oz crushed tomato
1.5 liters/1.5 quarts (6 cups) vegetable or chicken stock
1/2 tsp each cumin and coriander powder
1 1/2 tsp paprika powder
2 dried bay leaves
1 lemon ( zest + juice)
1/4 tsp salt and pepper, each
Chopped fresh parsley or dill, for garnish

INSTRUCTIONS
Heat oil in a large pot over medium heat. Add garlic and onion, cook for 2 minutes.

Add celery and carrot. Cook for 7 - 10 minutes or until softened and the onion is sweet. Don’t rush this step, it is key to the flavor base of the soup.

Add all remaining ingredients except the lemon and salt. Stir.

Increase heat and bring to simmer. Scoop scum on the surface off and discard (do this again during cooking if required). Place lid on and turn heat down to medium low. Simmer for 35 - 40 minutes or until lentils are soft.

Remove bay leaves.

Thicken Soup: Using a stick blender, do 2 or 3 quick whizzes to thicken the soup (see video below). Or transfer 2 cups to a blender, let it cool slightly, then hold lid with tea towel and blend then transfer back into pot.

Add a touch of water if you want to adjust the soup consistency. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Grate over the zest of the lemon then add a squeeze of lemon juice just before serving.

Garnish with parsley or dill if desired and serve with warm crusty.

NOTES
1. Lentils: This should work with any type of lentils except Puy Lentils (French lentils, small dark brown/black ones because they hold their shape). Red, yellow, brown, green. The color of the soup will just be a bit different. Cook times vary slightly as well so just start checking if the lentils are done at around 30 minutes.

2. Storage: This freezes extremely well! Or keep it in the fridge for 3 to 5 days.

HOLY MONDAY

Today, the Church remembers Joseph, from the Old Testament who was so beloved by his father that his own brothers betrayed him out of jealousy. But he was lifted forth again with great glory and was honored as a king. He became lord over all Egypt and a provider of wheat for all the people. His life symbolizes the betrayal, Passion, death, and glorification of our Lord Jesus Christ.

HOLY TUESDAY

Today remember theparable of the 10 virgins, which Jesus told as He was coming close to His Passion. This story teaches us that we should not be careless in our lives, but should know Him, and be prepared for the end at every moment, like the wise virgins, so that we may meet our Bridegroom, lest He come suddenly and the doors of heaven be shut to us.

HOLY WEDNESDAY

Today, the Church services retell the act of the women who anointed Jesus’ head and feet with very precious myrrh, and wiped them with her hair to prepare Him for burial. We also remember the betrayal of Judas who was greedy for the cost of the myrrh and sold Jesus for 30 pieces of silver. This is why we fast on Wednesdays.

HOLY THURSDAY

Today, Christ blessed the bread and the wine, and gave us the Mystery of Holy Communion. He washed the feet of the disciples as an example of humility. After, Christ went to the Mount of Olives, in anguish to pray alone and was arrested by soldiers, spit upon, mocked and judged to death on the cross. The disciples all scattered, and Peter denied Him three times.

HOLY FRIDAY

Jesus, wearing a crown of thorns carried His cross to Golgotha, where at the third hour, He was crucified with two thieves. One cried out, “Remember me, O Lord, when Thou comest in Thy Kingdom.” Christ was pierced in the side and water and blood poured forth. A great earthquake shook and darkness covered the Earth. He was laid in tomb.

HOLY SATURDAY

Although the Jews had the tomb sealed, early in the morning, the women bringing spices went to anoint Christ. They found the tomb empty and an Angel cried out, “He is not here. He is Risen! Go proclaim it to the disciples!” In His death He destroys the gates and bars of Hades, and made His light to shine where only darkness reigned!

PASCHA

After Christ passed all of Saturday in the grave. He arose “while it was yet dark, very early in the morning” on Sunday, the third day, according to the Hebrew calculation, began after sunset on Saturday. We begin to celebrate at midnight that “Christ is Risen!” Every Sunday during the year is celebrated as the day of Resurrection for Orthodox Christians!
Celebrated by Rev. Sviatoslav Hot.
